Our State Highway

The State Highway Department finally decides to do a little work in Appomattox county on the State Highway, for which we are profoundly grateful.

Bituminous macadam roadway of 2.2 miles from Appomattox Courth-use west in Appomattox county, Ford & Harvey, Lynchburg, $90,295. Dirt road of 4.2 miles between Alpha and Gold Hill, in Buckingham county, Perkins & Barnes, Blackstone, $15,447.

These two contracts are of interest to our readers.

Some preliminary work is being done also on the road between Pamplin and Appomattox—cleaning off the right-of-way and grading.

The Board of Supervisors of Appomattox county at its last meeting directed S. L. Ferguson to appear before the Commission at the expense of the county and make an effort to get the Commission to build a short piece of road from the depot up to the State Highway at the forks just north of town. Mr. Ferguson is in Lynchburg hospital at this time and it is doubtful if we will be able to get this road built this year.

It is also gratifying to us to learn that the river route from Concord Depot to Lynchburg has been adopted over the route south of the old Lynchburg road. This will be a saving in distance of more than four miles its said over the route through south Lynchburg, and we will be allowed to enter the city at the eastern end of Main Street—White Rock Hill.

Register

We are told the world is growing more democratic. And yet every day and in every way democracy seems to make less interest in making itself safe for the world. Take such a simple matter as registering and voting, for instance. Men will fight to the death for the recognition of the principles of political equality and self determination, on which so much depends. But when the time comes to register eligible voters treat it as a matter of no significance whatever, and when the day comes to vote those registered think any and everything else of more importance than voting. As we all know, this attitude effects many of what we call our best citizens and makes it look as if the hookworm of indifference had begun to assume something of the form of an epidemic. The names of many voters are not on the registration books and they can be added if they feel enough interest in their city and state and in questions of taxation and good government to have themselves enrolled. Register soon.

STATE NEWS BRIEFLY TOLD

The Latest Gleanings From All Over the State

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD

Fredericksburg.—Frank P. Bowman, a farmer of Culpeper county, has just had his wheat crop threshed. The yield from a thirty-nacre field was thirty-five bushels per acre.

Roanoke.—Two men were killed and seven others injured when Norfolk and Western freight train No. 51 left the rails three miles north of Roanoke and struck a lumber car on the siding of the Rocky Dale Stone Company, from which a number of men were unloading timber.

Danville. — Claude Bishop, whose trial caused an unusual situation in the Corporation Courtroom, when a juror took issue with the truthfulness of a statement made by the accused while on the stand, pleaded guilty to the charge and was sentenced to serve two years.

Lynchburg.—Rev. P. T. Harmon, who recently accepted a call to the pastorate of West Lynchburg Baptist Church here, has advised the Deacons of that church that he and his family have started by automobile from Bozeman, Montana, and that they expect to reach here about September 20 or 21.

Petersburg.—The police are still working on the problem of the Association Railway Express Company's safe, which was robbed yesterday disappeared some time Friday night. No arrests have been made and the police as well as the express company officials continue to remain silent, leaving no statements.

Danville.—O. E. Burnett, of Atlanta, Ga., brought here from Lynchburg on a forgery charge, is alleged to have confessed to Sergeant J. H. Martin, of the Danville Police Department, the murder of Charley Dorsey, an Atlanta taxicab driver, and a reported relative of former Governor Hugh Dorsey, of that State, in Atlanta on the night of February 26, 1921.

Staunton.—John Maybush, 6 years old, was instantly killed by a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train near Pecks crossing, in the suburbs of Staunton. The child is said to have been chasing a ball, which bounded on the tracks and before he could escape the train ran him down, almost within sight of his home. The boy's head, one arm and legs were severed.

Amherst.—Divorced in 1907 in the Amherst county circuit court, Joseph H. Smith, 69, and Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Smith, 50, decided on Monday to embark again on the matrimonial sea. They drove to Amherst in a one-horse wagon, procured a license from the clerk's office and were married by Rev. R. W. Bennett, in the South Amherst Methodist parsonage. After the ceremony the bride and groom left for their home in North Amherst, where they will reside.

Boydton.—At a meeting of the newly elected Democratic executive committee of Mecklenburg county held here Wednesday, H. F. Hutcheson was unanimously renominated county chairman; J. S. Mont elected county chairman; and R. Mont elected county retains the position of secretary. He was unanimously re-elected. From reports received from various sections of the county it is not thought that any of the nominees, nor even three for district offices, will have opposition in the general election.

Lynchburg.—Railroad detectives have report an unusual heavy movement of hoboes through this section, this being particularly heavy on the Southern with the "wanderlusts" apparently headed for the warm climes of the Southern States for the winter. The detectives have noted recently that negro hoboes resort generally to the passenger trains, but white tramps seem to prefer the slower and safer travel afforded by freight. Detectives say that the tramps are more numerous now on trains than has been the case heretofore in years.

Charlottesville.—A car driven by Roy S. Bunch, jeweler, of this city, left the road at a curve one-half mile north of Pugh's Store, on Miller School Road, plunged down a high embankment and, turning over several times, landed in a deep ravine forty feet below the grade of the highway, seriously injuring Mr. Bunch and his wife, who was also an occupant of the front seat. The rear seat of the car was occupied by Mrs. N. C. Bunch, Mrs. James B. Deaper and Miss Birch, all of this city, and while they experienced quite a severe shaking up, their injuries are not thought to be serious.

Danville.—City Health Officer R. W. Garnett received a telegram from the National Child Life Association, in New York, announcing that the executive committee had decided to place the new urban child health center at Athens, Ga., and the rural center in Rutherford county, Tenn. The telegram stated the race had been a close one and that a letter assigning Danville's failure to win it was following. The news came as a disappointment here, for Dr. Garnett had recently received the impression that both centers would be located here.

Sharing Birthday.

Paul and Phil were twins. One morning sunny approached and Paul Hilton by reminded: "Don't forgot this is my birthday!" "Mine, too!" chimed in Phil. "No, it's only mine," stoutly maintained Paul. "I'm not going to divide my birthday. Other kids have a whole birthday all to theirselves!" "Well," calmly adjusted Phil, "you can have your birthdays in the mornings and I'll have mine in the afternoons."

Fredericksburg.—A trip from Fredericksburg to Virginia Beach by canoe is being undertaken by J. B. Ray and his roommate at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, J. H. Rouzie, of Falls, Va. The venturesome young men left a few days ago to traverse the Rappahannock River to Chesapeake Bay, and expect to paddle the entire distance to Virginia Beach. At the completion of the journey they will return to Blacksburg for the fall term at the V. P. I.

Gretna.—Norris Stancel, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stancel, living on the Suffolk Boulevard, was critically injured when she was struck by an automobile driven by J. T. Ellis, Portsmouth, as the child jumped out from a school bus and ran across the concrete highway. Ellis stopped and rendered all possible assistance, bringing the injured child to Lake View Hospital, Suffolk. She is considered to be seriously injured besides suffering from severe shock.

Winchester.—Mortgaging the property of the Shenandoah Valley Agricultural Society, consisting of twenty-three acres of land and its buildings within the city limits, to secure a loan of $16,000, has become necessary, in order to pay off outstanding indebtedness of the local fair organization. Most of the debt was incurred two or three years ago when the management then in control was "pulling the fair on the map." Money was spent freely and, some directors alleged, extravagantly, to rejuvenate the annual exhibition, and all seemed to be plain sailing for a time, but as bills began to come in it was found necessary to execute a deed of trust to secure a loan of $16,000 from the board of Handley Trustees. Last week's fair was liberally patronized, and directors believe there will be a small margin of profit after expenses are paid.

Fredericksburg.—Samuel D. Rogers, member of the House of Delegates from Petersburg, is in receipt of a letter from President N. D. Maher, of the Norfolk and Western Railway, in which the railroad official gives a brief outline of the results obtained by the vehicle stop law, which was enacted by the 1922 General Assembly of Virginia, and which requires vehicles to stop at railroad grade crossings under certain conditions. The official calls to the attention of Mr. Rodgers figures which show that, while the number of automobiles in Virginia increased materially, the number of accidents decreased; also that West Virginia, with less than half as many trains as Virginia, running over half as many crossings, reported an increase in accidents and a larger number of deaths and injuries; and Ohio, with less than one-third the number of trains, running over less than one-third the number of crossings, had more accidents, more deaths and more injuries.

Winchester.—Postmaster P. H. Linebarg, of Stephens City, near here, danced a new step when his legs were peppered and stung by birdshot from an automatic gun in the hands of Mr. M. Carbaugh, who, while on the way to the country to hunt squirrels, was showing some friends how his gun worked. The gun exploded while being pointed downwards. The charge tore a hole in a concrete sidewalk, and the shot, glancing, struck the town postmaster on the legs, causing him to dance mightily. Most of the shot were extracted. A number of other bystanders were struck by stray shot.

Winchester.—Struck under the chin by the lid of a ten-gallon can containing cream, which flew off unexpectedly at Haldeman's Creamery here, Emmerson Brown, an employee, suffered injuries and cuts that required several stitches to close, was knocked unconscious by the blow, and was covered with cream from head to foot. The can was one of a shipment just received at the creamery, and is supposed to have generated gas in transit.

Winchester.—The next time William G. Slayman, bartmaster of the Western Maryland Railroad at Hagerstown, Md., gets married, he probably will take better care of his honeymoon money than he did on his matrimonial venture here a day or two ago. Slayman and Miss Nellie M. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, of Hagerstown, were married at a local church parsonage, and the following morning they left on a wedding trip. Being a railroad man, Slayman was supplied with a pass for two, and he had little use for more than small change until they reached Martinsburg, W. Va. There it suddenly flashed across the happy bridegroom's mind that he had left his pocketbook containing over $200 under a pillow on a bed in the hotel where he and his bride had stopped the preceding night, and without more ado he hurriedly telephoned Chief of Police Doran to go at once to the hotel. The chief found the money where Slayman said it was, and the chief turned it over to him when Slayman returned here on the next train. He was profound in his thanks.

Pressing.—Milton Vanover found his horse hung in a grapevine in a pasture where he was being kept, away from home. The animal was in quite serious plight, the vine being between his hind legs, with each end fast. By the friction caused by the horse in his efforts to release himself, the vine had pierced his thigh, making quite a serious wound. From appearances the animal had been there for several days, without food or water, as he had fallen off in flesh so much that he could not be taken from the pasture to be cared for.

Might Be a Good Idea.

Once Robert came in and said a bad word he had heard a playmate use. I told him I would have to wash his mouth out with soap if he talked like that. Some days later he was playing in our yard with this same child and the visitor said several swear words after Robert said: "Doesn't your mother laundry your mouth when you talk that way?"—Chicago Tribune.

VERA

Did you see the eclipse of the sun on Tuesday? It came at time, 4 o'clock p. m., and lasted almost an hour.

There was a "gathering" of the young people of the neighborhood at Mr. Walker O'Briens', Saturday night—a pleasant time is reported.

Miss Thelma Hammersley, one of our Liberty Chapel teachers of last winter was quietly married in Lynchburg last Wednesday the 5th, to Mr. Ernest Budd, of Farmville. Her many friends in this community wish for her a "path-way strewn with roses".

Miss Elizabeth Mays, of Lynchburg, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned home.

Miss Virginia Reynolds will attend school at the A. A. H. S. this year.

Miss Edna Seginson who has been quite sick is improving.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Carter who has been quite sick is better at this writing.

Mr. Burr Abbitt of Newport News has been visiting his family who is summering here,

A party of fox hunters from Brookneal is camping in the neighborhood; consequently "Old Reynard" is seeing a pretty tough time.

Mr. Scruggs at Pamplin, visited friends here last week.

Miss Marcia Childers spent the week-end at home and assisted in organizing the Liberty Chapel B. Y. P. U.

Mr. Perry Childers and two lady friends of Lynchburg, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John Childers.

Miss Daisy Bell, who came home from Lynchburg, has returned to take further treatment with her Chiropractor Dr. Louise Hensen.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Anderson of Lynchburg spent the week-end with friends here.

Probably a serious accident was avoided by the presence of mind of Mr. Richard Anderson when driving his car behind a string of buggies and cars, when one of them suddenly stopped. Mr. Anderson being close behind ran into them with only a slight shaking up and a bent fender as a result.

MKF Ross Reynolds, who is building a home at Appomattox, expects to leave our community about the fast of the year. Mr. Reynolds and family have made many friends in our neighborhood all of whom will be sorry to see them leave.

Cates—Babcock

The marriage of Carolyn Walker Babcock and John Floyd Cates was solemnized in a private parlor of the Virginian Hotel Wednesday at noon.

Rev. Bates, the bride's pastor, from Appomattox, performed the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Potter, from Burlington, N. C.

The bride was attired in a traveling suit of brown with accessories to match, and carried a bridal boquet of roses. The maid of honor was attired in a navy blue crepe de cline, carrying pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Cates left for a northern tour, after which they will make their home in Burlington, N. C.
